

PENELOPE ALZAMORA

Passion for Peruvian Cuisine

Penelope Alzamora, native to Lima, developed her passion for cooking thanks to her parents, who were lovers of good food, and a nanny who brought her closer to traditional Peruvian cuisine.

With the help of one of the best culinary guides in Peru, you will discover the local ingredients that give life to the finest dishes of Peruvian cuisine.

In the privacy of Penelope's apartment, located in the neighborhood of Barranco, you can participate in your own lunch preparation, while stimulating your appetite with a good pisco sour.
