

EXPERIENCE THE PERUVIAN WAVES SURFING WITH SOFÍA MULÁNOVICH

Just imagine taking to the waves of Punta Hermosa Beach on a surfboard, under the guidance of a world champion...

Peru's coastline flaunts incredible waves that are, according to the experts, ranked as some of the best around when it comes to surfing. In particular, Punta Hermosa Beach (43km from Lima) has some of Lima's most superb, varied waves, including one of the biggest breaks in America, known as Pico Alto ('Tall Peak').

Learn how to dominate these famous waves under the guidance of Sofía Mulánovich, the first surfing world champion in South America, who has led an impressive career and spent more than 8 consecutive years ranked as one of the top 5 surfers in the world, no less.

This is a unique experience that will have you spending the day on Punta Hermosa, getting to know the vigorous training program of this incredible sports person, while also picking up invaluable skills to conquer the waves yourself.
